Rifles

Semi-Automatic Rifles

In Washington, a semi-automatic assault rifle is defined by Initiative Measure 1639 as:

Any rifle which utilizes a portion of the energy of a firing cartridge to extract the fired cartridge case and chamber the next round, and which requires a separate pull of the trigger to fire each cartridge.

To purchase semi-automatic rifles as defined above, a person must be a resident of the state and minimum 21 years of age. This restriction does not include those rifles that are:

- 1. Antique firearms
- 2. Any firearm rendered permanently inoperable
- 3. Any firearm that is manually operated by a bolt, pump, lever, or slide action.

There are no exceptions for military or police members under the age of 21, and .22 caliber semi-automatic rimfire or centerfire rifles are included within the scope of the regulation.

WASHINGTON

Frames and Receivers

No unserialized frames or receivers.

Black Powder Firearms

Black Powder Firearms:

All black powder firearms must be transferred via Federal Firearms Licensee (FFL). The only exception allowed is for “antique firearms” as defined in RCW 9.41.010:

1. “Antique firearm” means a firearm or replica of a firearm not designed or redesigned for using rimfire or conventional centerfire ignition with fixed ammunition and manufactured in or before 1898, including any matchlock, flintlock, percussion cap, or similar type of ignition system and also any firearm using fixed ammunition manufactured in or before 1898, for which ammunition is no longer manufactured in the United States and is not readily available in the ordinary channels of commercial trade.

Thus all “modern” black powder firearms, even those that are not convertible to rimfire or centerfire, must transfer through an FFL.

Additionally, a person prohibited from possessing a modern firearm is also prohibited from possessing a black powder firearm in Washington.

Ammunition

All ammunition must be shipped to a dealer with an Ammunition license issued by the duly constituted licensing authorities of any city, town, or political subdivision of the state of Washington.

Accessories

Magazines over ten (10) rounds are prohibited.

We do not ship magazine extenders or extensions.
